HUGHES IN NEW YORK

Time: 3 Days, 19 Hrs., 16 Mins.

FLOYD BENNETT AIRPORT, New York, July 14 (AP)—Howard Hughes and his four fellow world-girdlers landed at Floyd Bennett airport at 2:36 p. m. (Boston time) today with a smashing new round-the-world record of less than four days.

The big silver monoplane circled the field twice before coming down to an easy landing before a wildly cheering crowd.

Last Hop for New York

The total elapsed time for the dash around the globe was set unofficially at 91 hours, 16 minutes, or three days, 19 hours and 16 minutes.

The multimillionaire speedster whipped in from the west under a threatening overcast sky with a record that more than halved the 7 day, 18 hour, 49 minute round the world time established in 1933 by the late Wiley Post, a mark then regarded as sensational.

Hughes drove the ship at full speed on the last lap of the flight from Minneapolis to Floyd Bennett airport, whence he took off at 7:20 p. m. (Bston time) Sunday. A spanking tail wind helped him along.

His speed for the elapsed time was approximately 161 miles per hour.

A fire whistle let go with a screeching blast as the aerial argonauts set their plane down on the concrete runway and taxied toward the administration building.

Hundreds of automobile horns joined in a tumultuous welcoming.

Despite elaborate precautions to protect the plane, a surging crowd drove through to get a close-up glimpse of the unshaven, dishevelled hero.

Hughes apparently did not notice a path which had been cleared for him and he taxied toward a commercial transport plane, which was immediately moved.

TAIL WIND HELPS

Hughes and his companions' last stop before New York was at Minneapolis, Minn., at 8:33 a. m. (Boston time) after a 2441-mile flight from Fairbanks, Alaska, over the Canadian Rockies, down the great wastes of the Yukon and the barrens of northwest Canada.

After a 33-minute halt at the airport there they roared off at top speed for New York. A strong tail wind shoved the ship along at high speed over this 1054-mile last lap.

They were reported at various points along the route, their progress cheered by the crowd which had gathered at Floyd Bennett field. It was estimated by officials at about 25,000.

WHALEN GREETS FLIERS

Grover Whalen, president of the World's Fair, 1939, for which the flight was designed as a goodwill venture, was the first to greet the fliers.

In striking contrast to the tired fliers, he entered the plane immediately after it came to a stop. Following him came Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, himself a flier of the World War days.

The impeccably dressed Whalen presented two large baskets of flowers.

Hughes took his time about emerging from the plane, stepping partly out once and then returning.

At 2:47 p. m., ten minutes after the ship landed, Hughes stepped down, followed by his four companions.

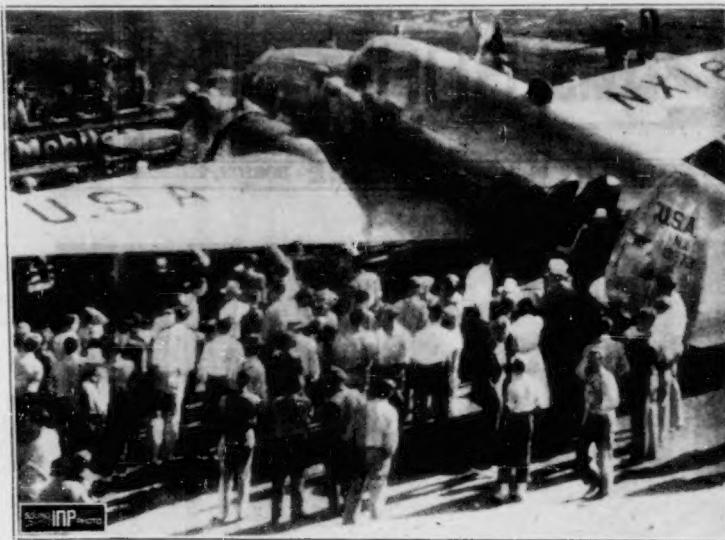

BACK TO START

Those who accompanied him on the flight were Lieutenant Harry P. McEl, Connor, navigator; Lieutenant Thomas L. Thurlow, navigator; Edward Lund, flight engineer; and Richard Stoddart, radio engineer.

The plane had come to rest on exactly the same spot from which it started Sunday afternoon.

Their landing at Minneapolis was made more than 6½ hours after they had last been heard

Refueling at Minneapolis

from by radio, somewhere less than 1000 miles out of Fairbanks, when they were flying over the desolate country near Fort Nelson, B. C.

In an interview over a broadcasting system while the ship was taking fuel aboard, Ed Lund, copilot and flight engineer, said the ship had lost its antenna over the mountains and made radio communication impossible. That accounted for the long silence.

"And we were pretty tired, too," he said.

FLIERS SLIGHTLY GROGGY

A barrel and a half of oil was drained from the right motor and replaced with fresh oil, and 750 gallons of gasoline were dumped hurriedly into the tanks. A regularly scheduled transport plane's takeoff was delayed to give the Hughes plane the right of the runway.

When the Hughes plane touched ground at Minneapolis it taxied slowly up to the administration building. The engines were cut off, and the fliers, one by one, clambered stiffly out.

Slightly groggy after 12 hours in the air they walked slowly across the field to a group of spectators who had gathered in the bright sunshine.

Thomas A. Thurlow, navigation officer, said that, in spite of their silence for six and a half hours, they had experienced no difficulties on the flight from Fairbanks.

ALL UNKEMPT

The weather, he said, had been excellent, save for a brief period when they saw lightning.

Hughes' white shirt was soiled, his flannel trousers wrinkled and baggy. All looked unkempt. Since last Sunday when they departed on their first dash, Hughes said, he had slept only about four hours.

All of the men reached eagerly for cigarettes. Richard N. Stoddart, radio engineer, explaining that no cigarettes were taken aboard because of the temptation to smoke.

Inside the plane the few spectators who got close enough saw a strip of canvas spread on the floor. The men had slept on it for brief snatches, one explained. HUGHES, LUND ALTERNATE. Hughes said he and Lund had alternated at the controls, taking turns of about six hours each. The robot control had done most of the flying, he added.

Lund said the plane had flown at an altitude of 14,000 feet and over coming down from Alaska and was making such good time they did not wish to stop at Edmonton, Alberta, or at Winnipeg, deciding instead to come straight into Minneapolis.

The men waved happily as the ship took off and roared away into the east.

When Hughes reaches New York he will be given a welcome rivalled only by that extended Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who made the first solo hop to Paris 11 years ago.

The airmen spent little time at Fairbanks. Refueling was completed and the plane took the skies after slightly more than an hour's delay.

As the 33-year-old speed pilot sent his ship streaking through the Yukon valley, Stoddart advised flight headquarters a refueling stop would be made at Winnipeg. A bulletin received shortly after 3 a. m. told of the lightning.

At this time, the fliers were 875 miles out of Fairbanks over the Mackenzie river section of the Canadian wilderness, flying at 14,500 feet.

Over the Alleghenies in the United States Hughes may encounter unfavorable weather. William C. Rockefeller, meteorologist at flight headquarters, said.

As Hughes raced into the Yukon valley taking off from Fairbanks last night he carried with him a dramatic "Godspeed." It was bestowed personally by the widow of the man whose round-the-world record he is casting into discard—Mrs. Wiley Post.

Aided by policemen and airport attendants, she made her way to Hughes' side, grasped his hand and said:

"I wish you Godspeed."

16-63 Love in a Swanboat

Girl Bride 'Does' Hub

In Boston today with her 63-year-old husband to see the sights and tour the night clubs, Athol's "May-December" love-match bride, Mrs. Anna May Boutall, 16, almost upset her whole prearranged program when she discovered the swanboats in the Public Gardens.

"Ooh, let's take a ride!"

'Hi'

GREETING—Herbert Boutall, 63-year-old Athol bridegroom, hoists bride, Anna May Boutall, 16, on shoulders for a Boston "Hello."

Cardinal's Cousin Given Tobin Book

Professor Philip O'Connell of Fordham, cousin of Cardinal O'Connell, paid a visit to Mayor Tobin at city hall today and was presented with a book, "Fifty Years of Boston." Professor O'Connell, accompanied by his wife, is spending two months' vacation here. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Clonmel.

Anna teased.

Then more rides followed. Hardly less gay and excited than his schoolgirl wife, Bridegroom Herbert David Boutall was nevertheless, more practical.

A MAN MUST EAT

He finally suggested luncheon.

"I want to climb Bunker Hill monument and see Paul Revere's house," pink-checked, wide-eyed young Mrs. Boutall protested.

She yielded, however, and was seated at table, a few minutes later, in the first Boston restaurant she had ever entered.

This was her first trip to Boston, too, and her appetite was aided by the fact that she had been up since dawn.

Habitually early risers, she and her husband had fed and tended their flocks of prize poultry before leaving Athol.

Riding by auto to Boston, with a Boston Evening American reporter and cameraman, 16-year-old Ann and her elderly bridegroom had napped as they sat cozily, hand in hand, in the back seat.

The had roused to inspect historic points of interest in Lexington and Concord, then had been bright-eyed and alert as they passed through Cambridge into Boston.

Bridegroom Boutall said:

"Tonight, we'll honeymoon in style at some of your Boston dine and dance spots. We'll step out among the bright lights."

"I've done a lot of traveling myself, in my time, but this is going to be all new to my little wife."

El Trustees Confirmed, 8-1

Trustees of the Boston Elevated now holding office were confirmed for another term of 10 years by the executive council today.

The vote was eight to one, with the dissenting vote by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Kelly.

Reappointed by Governor Hurley, the trustees are, School Committee Chairman Henry J. Smith of Brighton, former Representative Patrick J. Walsh of Boston, William P. Joy of Boston, Ernest A. Johnson of Boston and Edward E. Whiting of Newton.

Whiting is chairman. Salaries are $5000 a year each.

The executive council also confirmed the governor's nominations of James O'Brien, of Lee; Joseph C. Corl, of Reading, and James M. Whouley, of Cambridge, as members of the State Milk Control Board.

Dr. Manley Who Seeks Divorce

Suit for divorce alleging cruelty was filed in Probate Court at Quincy today by Dr. Frederic N. Manley against Mrs. Theodora A. Manley. Both are socially prominent.

Mrs. Manley left Quincy by plane yesterday for Cape May, N. J., leaving her 24-year-old daughter, Nancy, in the doctor's custody. His divorce application asks that he be given permanent custody of the child.

Dr. Manley is chief physician at the Fore River shipbuilding yards. Mrs. Manley is a former president of the Quincy branch of the Florence Crittenton League. They were married November 2, 1931. She was a nurse in Quincy Hospital, where Dr. Manley was an interne.

Will Try Again

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED GOESSELIN

CUPID RETURNED to this couple when, recently divorced, they became reconciled. They will now return to their disrupted home.

Divorce in Haste, Unite in Leisure

"It was all a hasty mistake," Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goesselin of Lynn, reconciled after two months of divorce, explained today in their new-found happiness.

The decree granted May 13 on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment would have been absolute in November. Judge John V. Phelan signed an order of nullification yesterday.

"The children brought us together, really," said flaxen-haired, 28-year-old Mrs. Goesselin, who as a high school girl met her husband at a football game, fell in love at sight, and was a secret bride for six months.

The couple have two children, Joyce, 5, and Bradley, 3.

"It doesn't pay to divorce in haste," Mrs. Goesselin said.

"Alfred came to see the children twice a week and naturally I saw him. That is what broke the ice."

"He was so kind and considerate to the children. And they seemed so happy together, I hated to separate them."

"Then he sort of began calling on me. Last week we decided to begin all over again."

"We're even going to begin house-keeping again. I have been making my home with my mother. But I'm going to begin house-hunting right away. It's going to be fun."

Alfred let his young wife do the talking. He just said:

"She's boss now."

John and Anne Leave Tuesday

CAMPOBELLO, ISLAND, N. B., July 14 The honeymooning Roosevelts, John and Anne, were joined today by John's grandmother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, who arrived for a six-weeks stay at her island estate.

The newlyweds disclosed they will leave here next Tuesday for an ocean trip. Yesterday, Anne celebrated her 22nd birthday anniversary with a luncheon trip to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Pike at Lubec, Maine.

James Roosevelt, now under treatment at the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., is expected to reach the President's summer estate here within a week with his wife.

Knitters Play Saints at Fens

Tonight six games will be played in the Park League. The Mass. Knitting St. Augustine's battle at the Fens Stadium, is the star attraction. The Knitters took a licking from the Saints at South Boston, and are out to even the record.

The fast traveling Brighton Civics will visit Dick Casey's Club at the Garvey Playground, Neponset, in what promises to be a natural, both clubs are up in key positions in the East Division and a win for the Civics will tie them with the Caseys.

After knocking off St. Augustine's of South Boston, Bill Pedersen's Hyde Park Tribunes will attempt to repeat the stunt when the McDonough club plays them at Smith Pond. While the Roslindale T. C. and the St. Ambrose of Dorchester are far apart in the league standings, the Saints have yet to be beaten by the "Townies" and their two games played resulted in ties. Tonight's game will settle the affair when these two nines meet at Healy Field. In the other two games of the night the Maddens of Roxbury will meet the Agnes Club of Allston at Allston, and the Holy Name of Roslindale will play the Wilson Club at Roberts Playground, Dorchester.

Dogfish Bite Dog! And Is That News!

PLYMOUTH, July 14 (AP)—Howard L. Rushton, former Kingston police chief, had a new angle today on how dogfish got their name.

Rushton reported the fish became so thick on the shore near his Sagadahoc camp that he was able to wade in, hold a dead hake in his hand and have the dogfish seize it. Thus enticed, several were tossed up on the beach.

The performance excited Rushton's dog, Bing, and he, too, entered the water, snapping at the dogfish. He retreated, however, when one bit him on the leg.

Babs' Count Is Anxious to Visit His Son

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow decided today to remain in London until he has seen his young son Lance, mentioned as the cause of trouble that may lead to a Danish divorce of the count and the former Barbara Hutton.

The 42-year old Danish count was said to have declared he was "anxious" to see the handsome blond boy, but at a court hearing the nobleman promised not to visit the London mansion where Lance is under heavy guard nor attempt to communicate with Countess Barbara.

RAGER TO SEE SON

"I am making no statement on the advice of my solicitors," the London News Chronicle quoted Haugwitz-Reventlow as saying.

"But I have not seen my son for four weeks and I am anxious to do so. The matter is being handled by lawyers and until it is settled I shall know no more than you do."

The paper said the count's secretary stated the count would make legal application for permission to see the son "if necessary."

Since the mother, heiress to the Woolworth fortune, already has made Lance a ward in chancery, putting him beyond control of either parent, any meeting of the father and son probably would require court sanction.

EXPLAINS REMARKS

At the Bow Street Court hearing—when Countess Barbara dropped charges against her husband that he had threatened her—the count admitted through counsel he may have intimated he thought the London mansion was not the proper home for Lance, but explained he meant only that "wealthy surroundings were not suitable for the child."

Quiz 3 Men in Labor Beating

FALL RIVER, July 14—Three men were taken into custody today for questioning in connection with the kidnapping and beating of Oswald S. Crookford, 41, organizer for the American Federation of Labor here.

After four hours' questioning, Captain William O'Brien said he had "definite evidence" of the men who allegedly forced Crookford into his car last Wednesday, drove him to the suburbs and battered him with revolver butts.

Crookford is still in a serious condition.

EX-EDITOR DIES

CINCINNATI, July 14 (AP)—Moses Straus, 65, who retired last fall as managing editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star, died today.

Thomas Aided By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 14 (INS) — President Roosevelt was crowned with fresh Oklahoma Democrats put an on "my old friend," Senator new dealer.

The renomination of Thomas was credited generally as a personal victory for the President, following his public endorsement of the senator in a speech at Oklahoma City last Saturday.

The President, however, must divide credit for Thomas' victory with Dr. Francis E. Townsend, father of the old age pension plan. In the closing hours of the hectic Oklahoma campaign, Dr. Townsend entered it to make a fervid plea for renomination of Thomas, a staunch supporter of his plan, and for defeat of his old aide, Rep. Homer Smith.

Townsend and Smith fell out a year ago, after long and close association in the Townsend old age pension movement.

Smith had served once as the doctor's spokesman in Congress and was a vice president of his organized movement.

Now bitter foes, Townsend spared no words in demanding Smith's defeat. With tens of thousands of Townsends in Oklahoma, the elderly doctor must be given some credit for the outcome.

The Thomas victory was entirely unexpected here. Most of the Oklahoma's colleagues in Congress frankly predicted in recent weeks that he would go down to defeat before the younger and more energetic Smith.

The final outcome, therefore, serves to increase the prestige of the President and the magic touch of his personal influence.

The President's alliance on the Colorado and Nevada senatorial contests, as he sped across the West was in keeping with his final decision against conducting any personal purge on the trip

Wife's Gun Threat Plea Is Weighed

MRS. ARTHUR DE MACI

Charges of shotgun threats, and counter denials, were weighed in Salem Probate Court today by Judge John V. Phelan in the divorce suit of Mrs. Anna DeMaci, 28-year-old beautician, against her husband, Arthur.

DeMaci, Sausalito electrical contractor, took the stand to deny he had threatened his wife with a shotgun because of her refusal to cook the things he liked. He admitted he kept a shotgun in his home but only because he belonged to a trap shooting club.

In refuting testimony of his wife that she worked in a beauty shop and then was forced to do all the work at home, DeMaci testified that the housework was all done by his mother.

Roosevelt On Coast; To Review Fleet

Aboard President Roosevelt's train en route to San Francisco, July 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt pushed through to the Pacific coast today on a program much to his liking.

Arranging to arrive at Crockett, near San Francisco, before Monday, his day's plans included a sightseeing and inspection tour in the San Francisco area, a speech at the exposition grounds, and a review of the United States fleet off the city.

The speech, to be delivered at a luncheon in the Golden Gate International exposition grounds administration building, was expected to be one of the most important of his cross-country tour.

The fleet review takes the President back to one of his first loves, the navy, which he served many years as assistant secretary.

His plans called for him to board the cruiser Houston at Oakland in midafternoon and to stay on her decks until after the review.

The President will entrain for El Portal, entrance to Yosemite National Park, where his party will sightsee tomorrow.

The President crossed into California from Nevada with only one set speech on his program—that at the exposition building.

It was expected, however, that some time during his three-day stay in the state he will have some and words to say for "Dear Mac," Senator William McAdoo, who is seeking renomination.

Huge Throng Roars Greeting To Hughes

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP).—As Howard Hughes and his four round-the-world companions roared toward Floyd Bennett field today to end his record trip, a half dozen big transport planes from the various lines operating out of Newark airport flew over the field and lined up on the apron, facing the administration building.

In the air six more flew in neat formation, banking, circling, swooping over the throng which swelled as the minutes passed.

The parking field was jammed with automobiles. Men and women swarmed in and out of the administration building. Writers in the restaurant were swamped.

CROWD GROWS

On that part of the field restricted to those without passes the congestion was worse, and the crowd continued to grow.

Old timers at the field said it was the biggest jam they'd ever seen.

Grover A. Whalen, head of the World's Fair, arrived, looking, as usual, as fresh as the gardenia he invariably wears as a boutonniere. His hair glistened, he smiled, he shook hands with the wives of the fliers. Mayor LaGuardia did the same.

The wives looked bewildered. Mrs. Thurlow, who had left her son, Tommy, three, with friends, said the boy was playing gaily when she started for the field. His father would see him tonight. Slightly nervous, she rolled the stems of two roses, red and yellow.

60-MILE TAIL WIND

The meteorology department of Eastern Airlines, after consulting instruments, said the fliers were getting the benefit of a 60-mile-an-hour tail wind.

Over a short wave radio set Albert J. Lodwick, president of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation and manager of the flight, talked to Hughes, giving the plane last minute instructions.

"There are 1000 police here to protect you," Lodwick said. "You will not be mobbed when you arrive."

The wives, by this time, were looking more joyful than ever. Mrs. Stoddard carried a new shirt and an undershirt for her husband. Mrs. Connor also had a new shirt, but bewailed the fact she had forgotten to bring cuff links. Mrs. Thurlow looked slightly dismayed, and remarked she alone had been neglectful.

WIVES AT FIELD EARLY

The wives of Stoddard, Thurlow and Connor, crew members, went to the field shortly after word came through of their husbands' arrival at Minneapolis. They suppressed their excitement with difficulty.

And just as interested in the arrival of the ship were two other women—Katharine Hepburn, and Miss Edmore Hoaglund, 21, who said she was engaged to Lund, also in the crew.

Miss Hoaglund made no effort to hide her emotion. She could hardly stand still with excitement. Miss Hepburn's whereabouts are not known but her name has been linked romantically with that of Hughes.

Dan Carroll Hits Charge of 'Deal'

Daniel J. Carroll, well known sportsman, denied indignantly today any knowledge of an attempted "deal" by which he allegedly was to give protection to the Becker Transportation Company.

Carroll was one of several for whom summonses were issued for a hearing tomorrow on the charges of Samuel Becker, truck company head, that he had paid a total of $2800 in bribes to Frank E. Riley, director of the state commercial vehicle division.

"I haven't any summons and, what's more, I don't know what it's all about," Carroll stated when located at a beach resort in Maine. "It's all news to me. I don't know what they are arguing about."

OTHERS CALLED

The hearing was called for 10:30 tomorrow morning after the State Public Utilities Commission heard Becker publicly accuse Riley of accepting $2800 after his company had been hailed before the department for violation of labor laws.

Carroll's name entered the controversy with Becker's statement that the Boston sportsman had been suggested by Riley as a "partner" in order to insure "protection" for Becker trucks.

In addition to Carroll, summonses were issued for a bank teller, who is asked to bring records of large bills delivered in October and November, 1936; for the Copley Plaza Hotel management, asked to furnish its register for May and June, 1937; Bowen, Brothers, Revere truckmen; Elmer Atherton, Boston attorney; Aaron Cooperstein, a relative of Becker, and Angelo Franchini.

150 Are Killed In New Raids Over Canton

CANTON, China, July 14 (AP)—Japanese aerial bombs killed probably 150 persons and injured 500 others in this south China city today, the third successive day in which Japanese warplanes have attacked.

Eighty-three dead were counted between the East Bund and Honam Island alone as rescue squads pulled mangled bodies of men, women and children from wrecked houses.

Dead and wounded for three days in the Canton area were expected to total more than 1500, including 240 killed when a bomb hit a concentration camp at Teeng-cheng, South Kwangtung Province. Thirty-seven Japanese air raiders appeared shortly after daybreak, directing their attacks toward the Pearl river bridge and the old power plant.

Near the bridge, on the East Bund, one bomb struck the center of a crowded vegetable market, and 34 shattered corpses were counted there. The only living thing appeared to be a pet monkey, chained to a tree.

Crossing the bridge to Honam, 45 bodies were found on the sidewalks.

Leahy Rescinds Arrest Order, Peace Reigns

The "one-arrest-a-week" rift between Mayor Lyons of Cambridge and Police Chief Leahy appeared to have been amicably settled today as the Mayor announced there would be no enforcement of the order and Chief Leahy planned to take a month's vacation beginning Saturday.

At the same time, Mayor Lyons said he would keep a closer watch over the police department from now on and see that officers are not subjected to such orders. He declared the entire department was relieved that patrolmen do not have to take someone into custody at least once a week or be considered remiss in their duty.

Rumors he planned to suspend Chief Leahy as a result of the order were neither confirmed or denied.

Ruth Swings—And How

LOS ANGELES, July 14 (INS)—Ruth Rubidoux, who is 26, just loves to dance. So, as is natural under the circumstances she attended a dance.

Ruth took her place along the wall. And there she sat, and sat! For two hours she waited but not one swain asked her to dance.

That irked Ruth and she decided to direct action. She knocked over furniture and broke a big vase when the management refused to give back her admission money.

Today she was found guilty of disturbing the peace, but a jail sentence was suspended.

CALLAHAN FOR CHIEF

Deputy Chief Edward D. Callahan will succeed Chief of Police James H. Broad of Lynn, when the latter retires September 3, Mayor J. Fred Manning announced today.

Cement Killer, Jailed, Whistles

The prison choir was singing "God Is Our Savior" when J. Paul Bathelt, dapper in a double breasted gray suit, head up, lips tightly compressed, arrived in State's prison in Charlestown today.

"He whistled most of the way down," High Sheriff Albert Beechmann, of Northampton, said of the 26-year-old convicted killer of Charles Morris, racetrack hanger-on.

It had been raining. The sky still was overcast, lending an even gloomier aspect to the gloomy enough surroundings, when Bathelt stepped from the high sheriff's automobile and was led up to the prison door.

ANNULMENT WIFE'S PLAN

He has been sentenced to life imprisonment. In her Park avenue apartment in New York today, his bride of little more than a year, Mrs. "Margot" Bathelt, an ex-actress, announced she is going to seek annulment of her marriage to him.

Bathelt, Sheriff Beechmann said, did not speak of her on his way from Northampton to Charlestown, although, said the sheriff, he did talk casually of various friends.

Inside the prison, Bathelt asked only one question: What were the rules? When could his father, well-to-do Holyoke contractor, visit him, and how often?

TIME TO LEARN

He will learn all that in due time, he was told.

He will spend the night tonight, as do all new prisoners, in solitary confinement. Tomorrow he will be assigned to the work the prison authorities decide he is best fitted to do.

Morris' body was found in the Connecticut River, traced back to a shallow, cement-filled grave in the cellar of Bathelt's summer cottage at South Hadley. Bathelt, police said, admitted he killed Morris because, he charged, Morris "double-crossed" him "once too often."

"He even tried to persuade me to trim my own wife," Bathelt was quoted as saying.

Bathelt confessed "to save my family and friends the further anxiety of a big murder trial," according to authorities.

Committee Seeks Peace in UAW

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—A peace committee of the United Auto Workers union leaders claiming to represent 175,000 workers asked John L. Lewis, CIO leader, today to restore peace to the faction-torn union.

Walter Reuther, president of the West Side local in Detroit, said the committee would leave up to Lewis what steps to take.

THROUGH — Following her husband's plea of guilty to the murder of Charles Morris in the "cement mystery," Mrs. Bathelt, heiress, announced she would seek marriage annulment under the convicted felon law. Bathelt begins life sentence at Charlestown prison today.

ORDER BOAT AUCTIONED

The fishing schooner, Santina D., was ordered sold at public auction today by Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford to meet gasoline bills of $4478.25.

Suspect is Held In Hurley Threats

Richard M. Sullivan, 32, allegedly escaped from a Taunton mental hospital, was in custody of state police today after his arrest in Hartford, Ct., on a charge of writing threatening letters to Governor Hurley and Lieutenant-Governor Kelly.

Connecticut police became suspicious when they saw Sullivan lurching rides. After questioning him, his description and fingerprints were sent to Massachusetts.

By HENRY L. DAILY

Each Hitting for George Holland.

Exclusive:

Some 400 members of the staff of the Collector of Internal Revenue, Federal Service, throughout Massachusetts, will be notified within the next week as to whether their services are to continue or be dispensed with.

Drastic changes have been contemplated for some time, affecting not only the higher-ups but the lowly workers as well. A forerunner of the reorganization plan adopted by Washington officials saw the dismissal of 82 employees, 40 regular and 42 temporary, recently.

The field service is said to be the target for several important shifts. Employees have already started plans for placing them on a civil service basis. A bill to this effect will be introduced next fall in Congress.

Coupled with the above so-called economy move, comes the information that United States Marshal John J. Murphy will soon leave his present post to accept a higher position in the Internal Revenue branch of the national government. "Eddie" Gallagher, secretary to "Jimmy" Roosevelt, has been mentioned as possible successor to the Marshal.

HENRY L. DAILY

Solution of the Charles Morris murder in Hampden County was but one of the many crimes that have been solved by the modest state detective—Captain John Stokes. Three girls were in swimming found Morris' body. The only mark of identification was a gold tooth. Within five days an arrest was made and conviction followed. A really remarkable piece of sleuthing. Assisting Captain Stokes were Sergt. John F. Horgan, State Detectives John Duggan, Maurice Neligan, Daniel A. Murphy, William Pizzi and State Troopers Joseph Keating and Arthur Cisson.

Looking Backwards:

"I remember when the spot upon which stands one of the most beautiful rose gardens in America was nothing but a fish pond," said "Eddie" McNulty. "As a matter of fact I helped to build the garden in Franklin Park. It was known as Hicks Farm. Next to that was the old Longfellow Farm. We have used to coast down hill to the old Boylston railroad station before the great hole was cut away. That section is now Columbus and Walnut avenues, near Seaver street, Roxbury. The Rev. Dr. Plumb, an ardent prohibitionist, lived along the line of march, as did Mr. Cormack of the once famous brewery by that name. Mrs. Williams owned practically all the remaining land. And do you know, his mother used to nurse soldiers during the Revolutionary War. Then there was the Moody Merrill estate, which afterwards became a 'Gum Cure.' Now it's all apartment houses. Well, times do change."

Many summer vacationists in the vicinity of Five Islands, Me., will remember Elijah Wilbert. Something after the idea of Melville Dunham, he played the violin at country dances for more than 50 years. He expressed a desire to come to Boston and did. He wanted to visit Chinatown. While there the friends that had him in charge missed him. One hundred feet behind they found him reading a large sign in Chinese language. "What are you doing?" he was asked. "If I had my old violin here I but you I could play that piece of music," he replied.

Ancients Going to Cuba

Captain Frank G. Vodge, of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company will sail for Cuba next month to make arrangements with the President of that country for the fall trip of the Ancients. Jack Boston, president of the Royal Garden of the Hotel Sheraton has found something new and new. She is little Gene Collins all the way from Lexington, Me. . . Shirley Temple has taken out a $10,000 life insurance policy. Motion picture companies carry almost a $1,000,000,000.

Dr. James R. Corkery, of Everett, will marry Miss Eileen Collins, of Revere, Sunday afternoon next at St. Theresa's Church, Revere. She was recently graduated from the Whidden Memorial Hospital. . . All the boys in Dick Abbott's Orchestra at the Statler, hail from Marietta, Ohio, including Dick himself. None of them took lessons on the instruments they play. . . Johnny Powers, vice-president of the L. Street Swimming Club of South Boston, will be a candidate for the House from Ward 6.

Chambers is it simple if you eat only what most people do. Eat food, potatoes. It's easy you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that you consume in the body but leave as "bulk" in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your problem is a crumbly breakfast cereal - Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the great intestinal tonic, Vitamin B. Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Educators Laud Movie Course At Harvard

Special to Boston Evening American

ATLANTA, Ga., July 14—Enrollment at Harvard University of a post graduate course devoted to the study of motion pictures, planning, architecture and other fine arts, was greeted here by leading local educators as a step in the right direction.

While enthusiastically in favor of the movement which was announced in the Sunday American, the educators generally classed it as an experiment and one which should be undertaken only by the larger institutions, such as Harvard.

The views of one of the local educators Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe University, follow.

"Harvard is responding to a demand. Here at Oglethorpe, we are launching on much the same plan. Last year we made a motion picture on the campus. Our classes in drama are going further and further into the study of motion pictures.

"Of course, we make extensive use of the motion picture in our visual education, courses and are now planning to have an extensive library here where the films may be used in connection with research in a number of subjects.

"A school in motion picture is as certain to come in a university as a school of banking. We must recognize that motion pictures are as much a part of our present-day drama as the state is, or war, and we must plan to incorporate such a study in our curriculum."

Penny Pitching Goes Social

By BETTY ALDEN

Penny pitching has gone social. Having the name of a game, it is a game of chance, and a game of chance is a game of chance.

But yesterday afternoon, the game was played in a different way. It was played in a social way, and it was played in a social way.

The game was played in a social way, and it was played in a social way. The game was played in a social way, and it was played in a social way.

Horseman's Answer: Adams Takes Up Pen

TAKE A LETTER. Take this letter for convenience. It just came an hour ago, penned in the chaste Spencerian script of C. F. Adams, who purveys comestibles to the chain store public and papas Suffolk Downs, the Boston Bees and the Bruins Hockey team (ex-officio). He doesn't like what this pillar printed about breakage last week.

AUSTEN LAKE

"Dear sir—Your remarks about 'breakage' recently were a left hook to the jaw. You certainly did not pull your punch. (Ed.—No foul claimed!) My slant on 'breakage' is more comprehensive and covers more ground than yours when you limit 'breakage' to 1 1/2 per cent. While my statistics are not guaranteed they are close enough for practical illustration. (Ed.—My statistics came from the official race report.)

"According to my feeble and chastened reasoning (Ed.—Tush sir! You are never feeble) 'breakage' represents the difference between what you pay and what you get (Ed.—Exception taken! 'Breakage' is the difference between what you get and what you are entitled to), whether applied to horse racing or any other invisible deduction. Thus 'breakage' at Suffolk comprises the gate, the concessions, the take and the 'break' on the matel payoff. (Ed.—That isn't the way the Mutual act of 1935 defines 'breakage.' It reads, "... the odd cents over any multiple of 10c, otherwise payable to the patron ... shall be called the 'breaks.'") As I view 'breakage' it approximates 12 1/2 per cent together, including the state's share of about 4 1/2 per cent, which we collect and pay to the treasury of the Commonwealth.

'Number Pools Take 70 Per Cent'

"TO MAKE MY POINT CLEAR, LET US take this 'breakage' of approximately 8 per cent to Suffolk Downs, from which payroll, purse, property taxes, maintenance and other inevitable expense must be paid, and compare it with the so-called 'number pools,' the daily results of which are published regularly by the press, free of charge to the promoters. We are advised, whether correctly or not, that the 'breaks' in this particular guessing game are 70 per cent. (Ed.—This pillar has no defense to make for the Number Pools.) In the foreign sweepstakes, peddled in this section, the 'breaks' are estimated at about 60 per cent, with contingent addition to this percentage of whatever counterfeited tickets are foisted off as bona fide chances. (Ed.—While offering no brief for the "sweeps" either, few investors get hurt more than $10 worth a year.)

"The 'breakage' from horse racing, while sifting from hand to hand, stays largely in the community where it originated. (Ed.—The question before the house is one of proper ownership.) The 'breaks' in pool and sweeps hard to catch in this neighborhood—and, by the way, racing in Massachusetts is a vice, while most other forms of gambling are beyond the pale of the law. (Ed.—Correct! Police take notice.)

Breakage on a Loaf of Bread

"SPEAKING OF 'BREAKAGE,' TREATING IT as the difference between what you pay for and what you get (Ed.—See third Ed. comment), lets apply it to another form of 'take'—visible taxes, and observe how modest is the 'take' from racing by comparison: Cigarettes 50 per cent, loaf of bread 33 per cent, rents on houses and apartments, etc., 40 per cent, the clothes you wear 20 to 25 per cent, and so on and so on. (Ed.—It grips me, too. But the difference is one can eat the bread but one cannot eat a defunct matel ticket.)

"These are more homely illustrations but by no means the whole story. We pay 'breakage' daily. Next fall, if we have anything to call our own, we will pay again in the form of the 'out-in-the-open' tax bill. We 'suckers' continue to stand the gaff. (Ed.—Ain't it the truth?)

"Now about the 'breakage' in those may-be championship fights! (Ed.—See my hysteria of June 20 on this subject.) This must amount to somewhere near 100 per cent as far as the customer is concerned and a million dollars, more or less, has drifted over to Naziland, which heaven knows, is far from home. (Ed.—It is also far from heaven.)

"I am, sir, your obedient servant, C. F. Adams. (Ed.—Who? Mr? I'm a housewife, and I don't know what you're talking about.)

Harvard Names Stahl New Baseball Coach

Mentor Comes From Ohio State

The committee in charge of athletics at Harvard has announced the appointment of Floyd Shaffer Stahl as head coach of baseball to succeed Fred Marshall who recently resigned.

Stahl will report at Harvard early September and remain at the Cambridge institution on a year-around basis just what the former Ohio State mentor will do outside of baseball has not as yet been determined.

The new coach comes directly from Ohio State, where for the past eight years he has been head coach of baseball, assistant basketball coach and backfield coach in football.

SECOND OHIO MAN

Oddly enough this makes the second Ohio State man to head Harvard for Cambridge in six years. Back in 1923, Harvard appointed Wm. Foster, who is the head coach of basketball and end coach in football.

Stahl is a graduate of the University of Illinois, class of 1926, and after graduation he became head coach of football, basketball and baseball at Silvers high school in Dayton, Ohio. He remained there until 1929, when he moved to Ohio State.

Bill Ringham, director of athletics at Harvard, said:

"I am most appreciative to the co-operation given me by L. St. John, director at Ohio State. Stahl, right at present, is only a baseball coach, but the chances are that he will be worked into other sports as the situations proved themselves.

"Dolph Hambrecht, freshman basketball coach and director of intercollegiate sports, will continue in that capacity."

Meade's Comeback Plea Turned Down

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 13 (AP)—The Florida Racing Commission today declined to reinstate Jackey Don Meade, suspended March 4, 1933, for betting on horses which ran against his own mount.

The commission, which heard Meade's appeal yesterday, declined to reinstate him without conditions.

Meade, a former jockey who rode for a time in the 1920s, had been suspended for betting on his own horse in the 1933 Kentucky Derby, which he lost to P. P. Indelicato.

Young Dickman } Youngster Displays
Is Bright Spot } Pitching Form

By JACK CONWAY

YOUNG EMERSON DICKMAN, who won the opening game for the Red Sox in their double-header with the Tigers, looks as if he will develop into a first string pitcher with experience.

Mr. Boston

Dickman started his first game of the league season before a 29,000 crowd and he didn't permit this fact to worry him in the least. He pitched easily, and had a pretty fair idea where each ball was going.

In addition to pitching a good brand of ball, Dickman got a double and a single. The youngster stands up at the plate well, and takes a fine cut at the ball.

Beginning with the seventh inning Dickman showed signs of tiredness. The strain of pitching his first big league game and the intense heat took their toll.

When Dickman displayed signs of weariness in the ninth inning, Joe Cronin used good judgment in replacing him with Archie McKain. A double play then retired the side.

Cronin was anxious to let Dickman pitch the full nine innings for the effect it would have on the youngster's future confidence. When it was evident Dickman might get into serious difficulties, and the Red Sox might lose, Cronin reluctantly took Dickman out of the game and sent McKain to the rescue. Cronin's judgment proved good.

It was one of these ball games where the agate came popping at Jimmy Foss at the wrong angle, and as a result Double X wasn't very helpful to young Dickman. As the Sox won, everybody was happy. Especially Joe Cronin, Eddie Collins and Tom Yawkey who have been making frantic efforts to secure new pitching strength for the Sox. Dickman came to the big leagues from Washington & Lee. He had been a sensation as a college pitcher.

The 29,000 crowd at the Sox-Tigers double-header once more proved Eddie Collins' contention that baseball does not have to worry too much about horse racing if you are able to offer the public the proper attraction.

"New York has had horse racing for a great many years," Collins said when legalized racing first came to Massachusetts, "and the Yankees and Giants have always drawn large crowds when they had first class teams. I do not intend to concern myself with New England racing. We shall play as good baseball as we can, and you shall find the attendance figures at the ball park large when we are winning."

Baseball remains the national pastime, and still has a greater appeal to the American people than any other sport.

There are places for racing, boxing, wrestling, tennis, golf and the other athletic pastimes, but over a period of time baseball will more than hold its own against any of these other sports in the matter of public patronage.

A HELLO from Judge Emil Fuchs at the Sox-Tigers double-header. . . The judge has retained all his love for baseball and retains his intense interest in the game. . . Judge Leo Doherty of the municipal court was out rooting for the Sox. . . As was Frank Sullivan of South Boston. . . Frank was a red hot boxing fan back in the days when Mike Glover, Eddie Murphy, Shaver O'Brien, Jim Maloney, Tommy Nee and the heavy thumping Hambone Kelley were tossing leather for "Southie". . . There was a wild cheer from the crowd when Joe Vossnik knocked a home run into the left field screen in his first trip to bat in the second game. . . Auker was pitching for the Tigers at the time. . . Doc Cramer made some brilliant plays in the field.

Police Commissioner Joe Timilty suggested that we should be getting some exercise playing golf rather than sitting in the press box at Fenway Park watching others do the heavy toiling. . . Gene Deaneuf was a tower of defensive strength to the Sox in the first game. . . What with throwing would-be base stealers out at second and being a perfect standing influence on the youthful Dickman. . . The former Holy Cross star also belted out a single. . . Fenwick got a chance to do a little catching in the second game. . . With another youngster, Jim Bagby, on the firing line. . . The Tigers got the range on Bagby in the second inning when they pounded out two runs.

Charley Crowley, the old Notre Dame guard who is assisting Eddie Anderson coaching football at Holy Cross, and Harry Follen of Wollaston were with Joe Timilty. . . Judge Eddie Counihan of Cambridge and his two sons saw the games from box seats. . . Park Commissioner William P. Long dropped in to see the exhibition by members of the Park Department League between games.

Eddie Steffin, photographer associated with this newspaper, took a foul off Ross' bat on the ankle, and regrets he couldn't get a picture of the happening. . . Fred Crosby of Jamaica Plain took the sun in a box.

Joe Cronin and Rocky Deerr were the key men in some dazzling double plays. . . When Bagby hit Walker on the back, Cronin took him out of the box and replaced him with Fritz Ostermuller. . . It wasn't Jim's day. . . Gehring, with two strikes on him, dropped a two-base hit to the left field corner, scoring two runs. . . A rather hot reception for Ostermuller. . . Two more runs scored on Joe Cronin's error.

The Tigers again today. . . With South Shore youngsters coming to town behind the Junior Band of the Bridgewater Pond, VFW, to hear Mickey Cochran. . . A Bridgewater boy who made good. . . Jimmy Burke, sports editor of the Brockton Enterprise, will lead the visiting rooters.

4000 Hood Employees At Outing

More than 4000 members of the H. P. Hood & Sons employees' Mutual Benefit Association gathered yesterday afternoon at Benson's Wild Animal Farm in Hudson, N. H., for the largest outing in the history of the association.

Twelve hundred came by special train which left from the Hood plant in Charlestown. Led by a baby elephant and two zebras, they paraded from the Benson siding to the farm. Others came from different parts of New England by car, train, and bus.

After an hour devoted to inspecting the animals, the entire association feasted on the athletic field to witness the competition among the track teams entered by different branches for the new C. H. Hood Trophy Cup.

The new cup was presented to the winning team by H. P. Hood 2d. The entire outing was under the direction of Harbort Burns, of Waltham, President of the Association, and Felix H. Duffey, of Malden, General Chairman of the outing.

The Dorchester five-man track team defeated the team of the other Hood branches throughout New England.

Chilean Net Star Wed in London

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—Anita Lizama, Chilean holder of the United States singles championship, was married today to Ronald Ellis, Scottish doctor.

Sonoma, Lizama, who stands four feet ten in her tennis slippers, employed three-inch heels and an eight-inch white comb to bring her to her husband's height.

Big League Stars

By the Associated Press

Joe Blumstein, Yankee—Hit two home runs, the second with two aboard in both innings, of last Boston 12-5 victory.

Tuck Stanbach, Dodger—Hit double with the home run against Dugan in second inning for which over $100,000 was bet.

Paul Hestberg, Red Sox—Hit double in eighth, and drove in two runs himself in 6-1 victory.

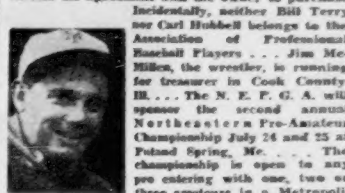

George Glavin, Athletics—Manufactured while out with six hits, flaming eight, in 1-1 win.

Johnny Mize, Cardinals—Hit three homers accounting for all Cards' runs in 10-0 loss to Reds.

Emerson Dickman, Red Sox, and Ben Reiter, Boston's steady pitching men double-header opener 7-4, with Dickman getting his life and scoring two runs himself; Reiter drove in three runs in 5-0 Tiger nightcap victory.

GOOCH 'MADE' KLINGER

Mediocre pitching, except when Uncle Mose Gooch is on the mound, makes it vital for Joe Cronin to field his best defensive combination, which may cost him some offensive power. . . The Sox will not clinch any higher if hits are allowed to drop as they did yesterday. . . While the Sox were hanging a 10 to 5 defeat on the Cards, Johnny Mize connected with three homers. . . So they're still pitching wrong to Johnny, despite "Old Case's" instructions. . . Bill Terry, manager of the Cards, bought a $15,000 mortgage on a Memphis estate but can't get on the property. . . The occupant across he had an agreement with the owner to purchase the property. . .

Bill Terry

Johnny Gooch

Incidentally, neither Bill Terry nor Carl Hubbell belongs to the Association of Professional Baseball Players. . . Jim McMillen, the wrestler, is running for treasurer in Cook County, Ill. . . The N. E. F. G. A. will sponsor the second annual Northeastern Pro-Amateur Championship July 24 and 25 at Putnam Spring, Me. . . The championship is open to any pro entering with one, two or three amateurs in a Metropolitan style best ball event. . . The amateurs do not necessarily have to belong to the same club. . . Lynn Nelson, of the Athletics, used to box as the "Masked Marvel" in North Dakota. . . Les Abbott offered—and his bid was accepted—Eddie Stone a junior membership to Furnace Brook after the Charles River caddy had posted a 132 at Wollaston. . . Incidentally Stone has quit tending bags around Charles River and is now in the wool business. . . Insiders say Max Schmeling will never fight again. . . Johnny Gooch, the Pirate coach, is now being credited with developing Bob Klinger, the sensational Pittsburgh rookie. . . Johnny Vander Meer came out flat fisted that Gooch is responsible for his success on the hill top. . . Art Thorne, the United States left hand pitcher should be good, for he is also the city champion of Detroit. . . Since he unearthed Tommy Flanagan, his old caddy, Jack Conway's game is back to normal. . .

Hurdling Honors Go to Our Ben

By MURRAY KRAMER

Just one week from tonight the Bay State Greyhound Association meeting comes to a close, and the highlight of the final evening will be the second annual Boston Evening American Night Final Handicap.

Racing Secretary Bill Flannery has announced that entries will close tonight and that by tomorrow evening he will have selected the 16 dogs which will take part in the two championships, one Saturday and the other Monday.

The first four in each race will take part in the big handicap next Thursday night, while the four bottom greyhounds in each event will race the same night in a consolation stakes.

Fame are getting quite a kick out of the hurdle race schoolings. . . The team boys take the greyhounds over the first hurdle to show how it's done. . . The form of the lead boys has been so atrocious that Hugh McGrath, official starter, is going to call an afternoon practice session and show the lads how to top the timber.

The battle still rages for the winning owner of the Bay State meeting for a valuable step watch or a stream lined trailer. . . E. E.

Randle is out front, but the wily Jess Bingham is very close behind, and Gas Males, winner last year, is very much in the running. . . Bingham, by the way, is all excited over the coming hurdle races. . . He claims every "pup" in his kennel can clear the jumps with the best of them. . . For a top handiker, though, we'll take Our Ben.

For talking purposes only—here is a brief list of greyhounds who are always worth a "duce" if they draw the one hole—Speed Malone, Iron Man, Last Straw, Like Laddie, Miss Lucky R., Ben's Janey, Windy Grove, Kilhaanig Guide, Smokey, Elegant Jane, Jean's Pride and Sheila Mer.

Hugh Bain, who never saw a greyhound race until four years ago and is now preening steward at Wollaston, is doing a whole of a job. . . He spends hours during the winter studying charts, past performances and checking details to improve his knowledge of the game. . . If you doubt it, drop into his down town office and try to stump him. . . he has charts and figures to prove every statement he makes.

Jacobs Convinced Baer Wants to Fight

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—The hot weather and even hotter comments in the public prints were thought to have taken Mike Jacobs' mind off a Joe Louis-Max Baer fight in September, but it appears to have been a false hope.

The Sixth avenue impresario is dogged and determined about the matter, and besides, he explains, Baer has a contract. With a feeling that way about it, a miracle will be required to avert a Louis-Baer fight sometime, somewhere.

In Mike's behalf, it must be admitted that up to two days ago he was willing to be reasonable. He was about ready to retire to his New Jersey estate for the remainder of the summer. But then Louis flew in on him unexpectedly from Chicago and said he wanted to fight in September, and out the window went Mike's good resolutions.

LOUIS INSISTS

"What can I do?" Mike protested. "Louis says he wants to defend his championship in September. Says he doesn't care if the government does take 75 per cent of his purse—he wants to fight. So now it's up to his managers."

"I don't know where I'll hold it yet. All I know is that Baer gets the fight, and that he'll put up a lot better fight than Schmeling did."

During the breathing interval Mike was reminded that, after all, the handsome Baer fellow had had one season with Louis, and that a lot of folks who picked him to win had been trying to forget the affair ever since.

"Sure he wants him again," said Mike. "Louis wanted to fight Schmeling again, didn't he? And he did all right, didn't he? If I want to fight, I wouldn't fool with him a minute."

MIGHT BE SURPRISED

So there it is: the result of having a champion who goes around popping off about wanting to fight.

LANCASTER, Pa., July 14 (AP)—A strike of caddies at the Media Heights Golf Club entered its third day today, with club members declaring they would not yield to demands for higher fees.

Club officials reported two women golfers, whom they identified as Mrs. Park Lindsay and Mrs. O. A. Clark, and their caddy were stoned while playing on the course yesterday. No one was injured.

Casey to Work At Kelley's Gymnasium

A sudden switch in training plans for Steve (Crusher) Casey, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who meets Richar Shikat, German challenger, at Fenway Park next Tuesday night was announced yesterday by Jack Albright, the titleholder's manager.

Beginning this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Crusher will engage in daily drills at Kelley and Hayes gymnasium and fans will be permitted to watch the sessions. Earlier, Albright and Casey had announced that training would be behind locked doors in a private gymnasium.

"We thought it over and decided that Steve's supporters were entitled to watch his progress in conditioning. The champion is in fine fettle today and he will train hard to keep that way."

PODBURNY TO ASSIST

Albright signed John Podburny, veteran Russian heavyweight, who will be in a preliminary on Tuesday's card, as one of Casey's training mates. He wants to get two other big fellows to work with Steve and hopes to have them signed in time for this afternoon's drill.

Shikat, scheduled to start public drills yesterday at Jerry Buckley's gymnasium down in Friend street, hurried to New York instead, hoping to contact Hans Steinke to bring him over here for the rest of the week.

Armstrong Off For Battle Scene

LOS ANGELES, July 14 (AP)—Henry Armstrong booked passage on an eastbound train tonight, determined to add a third boxing championship to his collection.

Present ruler of the featherweight and welterweight divisions, the little bull-shouldered Negro meets Lou Ambers of Berkimer, N. Y. for the lightweight crown August 10.

Armstrong, apparently well rested since defeating Barney Ross for the 147-pound title, will go into training at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

"I hope to have three titles when I come back home," he said. "I think I can beat Ambers, but he may be hard to get to."

"I caught three yesterday, one weighing 3 pounds, 2 ounces; another 3 1/2 pounds and a third of 1 1/2 pounds. Tossed back three that weighed a pound apiece, hoping they'll grow some before I hook them again."

Pirates!

Lift Radio Ban

PITTSBURGH, July 14 (AP)—The management of the Pittsburgh Pirates, lifting a long-established ban, announced today home games would be broadcast, beginning with today's game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

President William E. Benbow, owner of the Pirates, said the decision was made because of the management's belief that if there are home game broadcasts in Pittsburgh "local fans are entitled to receive a first class play-by-play description of the games from Forbes Field."

War Forces Japs Call Off Olympics

3 Gunmen Seize $800 In South End

Blazing guns and whizzing bullets terrorized a crowded South End neighborhood today, as three bandits, firing several shots into the air, robbed a Rose street, South End, businessman of $800.

The bold holdup was staged at Rose and Albany streets, where the victim, Michael Zirilli, was seated in a parked automobile.

The bandits pulled alongside him in another car.

CAR INJURES WOMAN

The shots they fired in air sent sidewalk crowds scurrying to cover.

While heavy traffic in the district became jammed, adding to the confusion, the gunmen forced Zirilli to hand over the $800.

He had been about to deposit it in a nearby bank.

As the bandits made their getaway, their car knocked down and injured Mrs. Ray Hamer, 42, of Harrison avenue, South End.

LINKED TO GANG

Police said descriptions of two of the holdup men tallied with those of members of a gang involved in several recent robberies, with number pool operators as victims.

A witness took down the registration plate number on the rear of the bandit car, but the plate was found to have been one reported as lost on June 24 between Hanover, N. H., and Boston. It was one of a set originally issued to a James Plana man.

TOKYO, July 14 (INS)—Japan today decided to abandon the 1940 Olympic Games.

Nippon's sports dictator, Marquis Kōichi Kido, Minister of Public Welfare, as-tounded the sports-loving but war-pinched country with the announcement that his ministry found it impossible to go ahead with costly preparations for the international games.

All that remains is formal confirmation of the decision tomorrow by the full cabinet, and the Tokyo games, subject of world-wide controversy, will have disappeared amid the thunder of war.

Bartolini Gets Death Stay

Oscar V. Bartolini, awaiting execution for the slaying of Mrs. Grace Griffin Asquith of Weymouth, today won a reprieve until August 30.

The stay of sentence was granted him by Governor Hurley and the executive council, after Defense Attorney George E. Lourie had declared he had four new witnesses, one of them a woman.

Their testimony might tend to prove Bartolini innocent, Lourie said.

Governor Hurley recommended the reprieve and the council concurred.

Attorney Lourie did not name the prospective woman witness to whom he referred today.

Several days ago, however, he announced that a mysterious "Mrs. Bee" had offered information which might save Bartolini.

"Mrs. Bee" answered an advertisement which Attorney Lourie inserted in the Boston Evening American.

An immediate scramble for the honor of holding the next Olympics was expected among several world cities—including Los Angeles, which held them in 1932 and has all the necessary facilities; Rome, which was hoping to get them in 1944; London, Helsinki (Finland), and others.

"In view of the Sino-Japanese hostilities," it was also announced, the Tokyo World's Fair which was planned in 1940 to celebrate the 2600th anniversary of the founding of the Japanese Empire has been "postponed until the restoration of peace."

Both announcements were signed.
